What Is Going On Tonight

Loyal Order of Moose meets at Moose Home, Pleasant street.
School Board meets in selectmen's office, town building.

The weekly meeting of the Willimantic Rotary club, held Tuesday noon opened as usual with the singing of America. Charles W. Hill, secretary, reported for the last meeting, following which President Frank H. Ross requested that he explain to the members the difference between a knock and a kick. Every rotarian learned the difference. James P. Mustard was called upon for a five minute talk on the subject, "What would you suggest as a name for the cheese made from the milk of Ford's Tin Cow, and why should the factory be located in Willimantic?" Mr. Mustard's talk was entertaining and he said that the cheese should be called, "Garage Cheese."

Arthur Lees a member of the Rotary club of Ridgefield Park, N. J., who is spending the summer at Crystal Lake, Stafford, was present and was called upon for a brief address. The Ridgefield Park club, he said, is the baby rotary club at present but has over 300 relatives in other cities. The beginning of the Ridgefield Park club came about in a manner that suggested Rotary in its true meaning. A group of young men prominent in business in Ridgefield thought it would be a good thing if they became better acquainted, and a club was formed which was to meet once a month. At one of their meetings the subject of rotary was brought up, the club immediately applied for membership and was accepted.

Mr. Lees told of the plan some rotary clubs had adopted. The members attending the lunch were seated about round tables, each table seating nine men. At each table was a captain whose duty it was to watch out over his men and when visitors arrived to endeavor to make them feel at home. This system prevents any guest from being left out in the general rush.

During the present time when certain classes of people are seeking to overthrow the ideals of the nation it is a fine thing to know that in this country hundreds of rotary clubs whose members comprise men who believe in their government, are standing back of the flag and democracy, which means so much for us.

At the conclusion of his brief address Mr. Lees was applauded by the members. He announced that he would attend the luncheon each week during his stay at Stafford. It was suggested that one meeting each month be devoted to discussions. At next week's meeting new songs submitted by the members will be practiced of matter of civic local and state interest. Following the announcement that the meeting of next week would be held Wednesday, June 15th at noon, the meeting adjourned.

In the police court Tuesday morning the case of William Timmins, charged with theft was continued to Saturday morning.

Rev. Allen H. Gates, of Scotland, was also before the court charged with reckless driving of an automobile, on the afternoon of May 27th. On that day Rev. Mr. Gates drove around the railway in the Union street crossing when a train was passing and in doing so passed to the left of the silent policeman stationed at that point. He did not believe he was driving recklessly at that time as the rate of speed was not fast. He said he saw the train approaching but figured he had plenty of time to get by it. He admitted that he did not know the rate of speed was not fast, but he said he has done many times before, while driving an automobile in France. It was his first appearance in court and would be his last, he said. The charge against him was amended from reckless driving to one of violation of Section 5 of the city ordinance regulating traffic. He then pleaded guilty and was fined two dollars and costs amounting to $2.25 which he paid.

The memorial address is to be delivered by Rev. Arthur Routhier, of St. Joseph's, Boston. Father Routhier is a native of this city and is a fine speaker. The members of the council are to meet at their rooms on Main street and from there march to St. Joseph's church, where the service is to be held at 1:30 o'clock. Following the service the Knights are to form and headed by a platoon of police and the American band will march to the cemetery where the graves will be decorated. One hundred and sixty-eight plots on the Cape estate, just over the city line on the North Windham highway, are under prearrangement by employees of the American Thread company. During the war thousands of home gardens sprang up throughout the country but when the war ended many home gardeners hung up their spades and shovels. During the war the American Thread company leased the land on the Cape estate and for six years the employees of the company have been given the privilege of raising their own produce on that ground. In many cities the home gardens are a thing of the past, but not so in Willimantic, at least with the employees of the thread company. Their gardens which are now prearranged by employees of the company to hold out during the period of short time most employees are passing through. The Elms garden under the supervision of Charles Brindley is also doing well and the produce raised there will be used at the Elms, the company boarding house for girls. The gardens of the employees are watched by Supervisor James Smith.
